Think Small Institute
10 Yorkton Court
St. Paul, MN 55117

To Whom It May Concern,

Think Small Institute develops and offers high-quality professional development for the Early Childhood Education workforce. In July 2024, Think Small Institute became accredited by the International Accreditors for Continuing Education and Training, signifying its commitment to a rigorous accreditation application and review process involving extensive hands-on evaluation and verification.

The curriculum developers and leadership at Think Small Institute have advanced degrees and decades of experience as subject matter experts in Early Childhood Education. With these credentials and commitment to quality, The Council for Professional Recognition acknowledges the Think Small Institute as a provider of continuing education for educators pursuing a Child Development Associate. The Council accepts Think Small Institute training certificates with CDA competency designations toward the clock hours required for the CDA.

While the Council for Professional Recognition does not endorse or recommend any specific organization, it can acknowledge the validity of the professional development offered by organizations like Think Small Institute.

Sincerely,

Dr. Calvin E. Moore, Jr.
